Traditional Artistry Meets Mixed Modern

Regardless of your style, your goals, or even your most treasured family heirloom, Lane Elisabeth Oliver will take your smallest inspiration and infuse it with traditional artistry to deliver a sophisticated, modern look.

“Clients trust my versatility, my take on customized, traditional and modern design, and my ability to manage a project from start to finish,” says Lane.

Always looking beyond the ordinary, Lane is often inspired through unique details and individual design aesthetic. “Whether it’s a first or second home or office, private aircraft, horse training facility, or business retreat, clients feel at home and inspired living in my designs,” she says.

Most recently, she’s been designing reflection spaces, along with pool houses, gazebos, and secret gardens —a testament to the versatility her clients often rave about.

“The world’s different now, and clients really have a need for peace and tranquility,” she says. “I want my clients to find vibrant inspiration in their living spaces. The world holds so much artistry, and it’s my passion to add that into my clients’ lives through design.”
